Entech Welcomes Project Manager

Reading, PA - Entech Engineering, Inc (Entech) is pleased to announce the addition of Eric Moore, P.E., to our team as Project Manager. Eric has more than 25 years in water and wastewater systems planning, permitting, design, construction, operation and administration.

Eric will use his vast experience to build programs and staffing to develop our younger engineering staff and enhance our project/client management.

Robert Weir, P.E., Executive Vice President, commented,

“Eric is an outstanding addition to our team, bringing a wealth of knowledge and experience to Entech. His skill set spans all aspects of water and wastewater systems at both the consulting and municipal levels.”

Eric served for more than 15 years as a consultant for numerous municipalities in central Pennsylvania, southern New York and Maryland which included small projects serving less than one hundred people to systems processing over 100 million gallons of wastewater per day. Most recently, he was pivotal in the creation of a new regional authority which consolidated four municipal sewer systems, helping to build it from the ground up.

About Eric:

Eric is a Penn State alumnus and registered as a professional engineer in PA. He is also certified as a water and wastewater operator. Eric and his wife are avid gardeners who enjoy the outdoors. When not in the garden Eric can often be found touring the countryside on his motorcycle.
