Kiehl Receives AIA Central Pennsylvania Young Architect Award

READING, PA - Entech Engineering, Inc. (Entech), a full-service engineering/architectural firm providing planning and design services to educational, governmental, industrial, and utility clients, is proud to acknowledge that Joshua D. Kiehl, AIA, NCARB is the recipient of the 2014 AIA Central Pennsylvania Young Architect Award, for Excellence in Design.

Lenette C. Wells, AIA, LEED AP, principal of Entech, stated; "Joshua's demonstrated leadership in his role as Manager of Architecture at Entech, his clarity of purpose in building design, and his dedicated community service, position him as an example for the future of the profession."

Joshua D. Kiehl, AIA, NCARB, a registered Architect in Pennsylvania, has over 12 years of experience on projects with a focus on adaptive reuse of existing structures and work in complex urban settings and sensitive historical contexts. As Manager of Entech's Architectural Department, Mr. Kiehl is responsible for technical oversight of architectural production, as well as architectural quality standards. A graduate of Drexel University School of Architecture with a B-Arch degree, Mr. Kiehl is a member of the American Institute of Architects and the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards. Mr. Kiehl began his career with Entech in 2010.
