Entech Welcomes Shawn Fassi

Reading, PA - Entech Engineering, Inc (Entech) is pleased to announce the recent hiring of Shawn Fassi. He joins our team as an Environmental Scientist and a member of our stormwater management services team.

Shawn brings a wealth of practical experience, having worked with both the Lehigh and Berks County Conservation Districts as well as the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (PA DEP). He has performed assessments for streams, watersheds, Best Management Practices (BMPs) and erosion and sedimentation controls as well as oversight of Chapter 102 and 105 permitting and MS4 investigations.

Bryon Killian, P.E., Executive Vice President, commented:

“Shawn’s addition to our team further enhances Entech’s regulatory permitting and compliance capabilities. His knowledge, skills, and approach will be an asset to our stormwater management team and our clients.”

About Shawn:

Shawn is a graduate of Keystone College in LaPlume, PA, with a bachelor’s degree in environmental resource management. He recently completed coursework to become a qualified wetland and stream delineator. He is the founder of the Keystone Creek Walkers, a Trout Unlimited-affiliated fly fishing and conservation club. Shawn is an outdoorsman, an avid Eagles, Flyers and Phillies fan, and a history buff – particularly of the revolutionary war era. He and his wife, Melissa, reside in Fogelsville, PA.
